Citizens Aroused Over Train Service to Milwaukee

Janesville Unanimously Backs Gazette Effort To Have Change Made by Railroads.

Because of the glaring inadequacy and inefficiency of the train service between Janesville and Milwaukee, popular opinion is beginning to crystallize and mould itself into an effective reconstruction force.

Today there are six trains going to Milwaukee, two on the Northwestern and six on the St. Paul, and not one makes the run, a distance of 70 miles, in less than three hours according to schedule.

Twenty-five Citizens Speak
Out of the 25 prominent Janesville citizens who were asked yesterday what they thought of the railroad service between Janesville and Milwaukee, not one was either passive or laudatory.

Everyone was constructively condemnatory. All were agreed that the inadequacy is formidable and unnecessary. The general consensus of opinion indicated that because of the inadequacy of the service, not only is Janesville suffering, but so is the railroad and Milwaukee. It was pointed out that there are plenty of people in Janesville who would go to Milwaukee rather than to Chicago if there was more rapid and convenient service.

There is what some people replied when asked, "What do you think of the railroad service between Janesville and Milwaukee?" "What remedy would you suggest?"

Samuel M. Smith, cashier, Merchants and Savings Bank, "Rotten for twenty years. I go to Milwaukee quite often and take the seven o'clock train. Knowing that the train will be late, I make my appointment for 11 o'clock, and then I get there at 12 or 12:30. Something should be done. I believe the connection with the Chamber of Commerce of Beloit, Janesville, and Milwaukee will be able to accomplish something worth while."

J. S. Elfield, "The service is very, very poor. It isn't any better than it was four or five years ago. They still hold the train while the farmer and his cows wait. There is no reason why there should not be a two hour service between here and Milwaukee, a distance of 70 miles. I have a truck and can beat the train in four hours, and that is as fast as the truck can make the run. I don't depend on the freight service. If I want anything within a week or so I send in a truck."

Miss M. Connors, clothing dealer, declared that the trip to Milwaukee is a "trip to the coast. He believes that something could be accomplished if the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce would work in conjunction with the local Chamber and the Gazette."

H. S. Huggart, president of the First National Bank, said, "Absolute rotten. Why one time last winter, I left Milwaukee at 7:30 and arrived in Janesville at 11:30 p. m. I think that there is a great deal of money going to Chicago that might be kept in Wisconsin if the service were better. There are many people that would go to Milwaukee if the service were better."

W. W. Holmes, of the Blockett Milling Co., replied, "It's awful. I don't go by train any more. I can get there by auto easily in two and a half hours. I have a truck and can beat the train in four hours, and that is as fast as the truck can make the run. I don't depend on the freight service. If I want anything within a week or so I send in a truck."

George G. Sutherland, lawyer, called the service very slow and inadequate for local demands.

Henry M. Weber, president of the Janesville Sheet and Overl Co., "It's worse than rotten. What we need is a good fast train that would leave Janesville about seven or seven-thirty, and another one leaving Milwaukee about six or six-thirty. There are hundreds that go to Chicago who would go to Milwaukee if they could make better train connections. It takes a lot of money out of the state that might just as well be kept here."

F. H. Tuckman, president of the Rock County National Bank, laughed. "It's foolish to ask what I think of the service. It has been no good for years. The course, something might be ought to be done. It just what and how is problematical. We all know that there should be a rapid through train. Concentrated on Beloit, Janesville, and Milwaukee would undoubtedly be the most efficacious method of bringing the situation about."

Robert Buggs, auto dealer, "I won't express sentiments."

John W. Daily, Bank of Settlements, "The situation is a problem. It suggests that people go to Chicago who would, if there was a better service. Not only would better service build up traffic, but would also build up Janesville's prestige and population."

Frank D. Kimball, furniture dealer, replied when asked why he thought of the service. "Very very poor and unsatisfactory. Miles all over."

RETAILERS FAVOR PARALLEL PARKING

Partially Endorse City Ordinance Now Pending—Talk of Other Matters.

Civic affairs attracted attention with trade topics last night at the annual meeting of the Janesville Retail Merchants' association at the Grand hotel. Business discussion seemed to be the background of matters tending to boost the city.

With hearty accord the association went on record as willing to back the recently appointed city board of health in its program. The merchants laid particular stress on the matter of clean alleys.

WANT SYSTEM OF SIGNALS

The retailers favor inauguration of a uniformity of signals for traffic officers. It was brought out there was many different types of signaling as there are officers on the corners and the confusion which results is liable to be a source of serious accident. The retailers are asked to bring in a resolution to be brought to the attention of the council. The association suggests the parallel to the curb idea on Milwaukee and set out the already restricted zones.

Seek More Members

Methods for increasing membership of the association are being sought. As it is now the organization is made up of practically only dealers along Main and Milwaukee streets. Efforts will be made to extend the membership to include every retailer in the city.

Guy J. Bridges was elected as chairman of the association, succeeding Amos Reiberg. A. E. Beasley was named vice-chairman. An advisory committee composed of the past chairman, the present, the vice-chairman, and the past vice-chairman, was selected.

Plan Picnic in July

Joseph Connors, Amos Reiberg, W. R. Duddington, Henry Solomon and Guy J. REED'S CLAIM TO CONVENTION SEAT MEAN BITTER FIGHT

MISSOURI AND GEORGIA CONTESTS FOR DISPUTED DELEGATES ARE PARAMOUNT.

Nebraska's Dry Fight May Mean Omission of Prohibition From Platform.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Francisco, June 25.—First guns of the democratic national convention were to be fired today when the national committee met to draw up the temporary roll of delegates. Three contests had been called to the committee's attention, but only one of them, that involving efforts to give Senator Reed of Missouri a seat with the delegation from that state, promised more than routine interest. Only one contest, that from Georgia, has been officially filed with the committee.

Palmer Victory Expected

The Georgia contest results were expected by party leaders to be settled in favor of delegates friendly to the candidacy of Attorney General Palmer for the presidential nomination. The decision carrying with it confirmation of Clark Howell as national committeeman from that state. There appeared to be no question as to the result in what was described as a "clear case" where statutory provisions in the state and party rules dictated the course of the contest.

An Effort to Place Senator Reed on the Floor of the Convention, Although the Missouri State Convention Rejected the Candidate, Was Expected and Because of His Attitude Toward the Administration During the Senate Battles Over the Peace Treaty, It Was Said to Be Possible That Strong Resistance Would Be Met Before the Committee.

The Oregon case was not serious. It was not regarded as a serious case and might not, it was said, materialize at all. In fact, national committee officials had already indicated they assembled to examine credentials what appeared to be made in any of the contest cases.

The contest cases showed two matters that have been in a nebulous state since the first democratic leaders arrived here, to be approached by the national committee. These were the mysterious and persistent boom for nomination of William G. McAdoo, even against his flat denial that he had any such intention, and the evidence as to a prohibition enforcement plank in the platform.

To Withhold Name

McAdoo withdrew was said early today to be slipping the plans to withhold his name from the balloting throughout the early stages. They have learned that the former candidate, who had been in the following but are said to feel that in view of his attitude, it would not be expedient to present his name unless the evidence showed that he was a leading candidate. Palmer and Gov. Cox, of Ohio, should develop. In that event there appeared to be little chance of the McAdoo name being put forward to break the blockade with the assurance of considerable strength at the start. His friends were expected to have the name put forward to break the blockade with the assurance of considerable strength at the start. Lawrence Thinks McAdoo Is Still Convention Factor

Sensitive About the Story that He Was Forced Out of the Race — Carter Glass, Wilson Representative Arrives With Platform.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1920, by the Janesville Gazette.

San Francisco, June 25.—William Gibbs McAdoo's declaration that he was not quitting the presidential race because of ill health strengthened his position with his many friends here, who had come to the conclusion that the advice of a physician had something to do with his abrupt refusal to have his name presented to the democratic-national convention.

But the statement made no reference to the second theory generally advanced here, that President Wilson and his former secretary of the treasury have concluded that it would be embarrassing to both men to consent to the candidacy of one whose distinguished father-in-law is taking such a prominent part in framing the platform of this convention.

So the McAdoo forces have taken on renewed life, and have rearranged their lines. They are now convinced that McAdoo, who failed to encourage any movement for himself simply because he believed the only way the nomination could come to him, if at all, would be after the convention had spontaneously chosen him without regard to his own wishes or any suggestion direct or indirect from the White House. He would be in an infinitely stronger position before the country if so nominated and would not be obligated either to his distinguished father-in-law or anyone else, and would be absolutely free from pledges or pre-convention promises.

Not in ill health
With the single question of ill health removed, which, by the way, troubled McAdoo's friends more than anything else for it was the only way they could account for the suddenness and mysteriousness of his tactics, there is a change from despondency to enthusiasm in the McAdoo camp. They are now determined to go ahead and the announcement that Dr. Burris, chairman of Kansas City, with McAdoo's name in nomination without his consent has served to concentrate attention upon the nomination.

Mr. McAdoo, incidentally, in his latest statement, appears to be laboring under the impression that the story about his health is a serious illness was inspired by "saturnine" unfriendly to him, for the story, after denying the published report that it would be impossible for him to publicly characterize such despicable methods.

They're After Him
There was no effort to injure McAdoo's chances of nomination. The story was on the lips of many a good friend of McAdoo and was the principal point of attack against the McAdoo supporters, some arguing that it was true and some contending it wasn't. Mr. McAdoo's reference to "despicable methods" suggests, to some observers here, that the former secretary of the treasury is sensitive about his candidacy and believes there is too much here to hurt his chances of a spontaneous nomination.

By clearing the air on the health question he has helped matters in his own early sessions, and his efforts to prevent Dr. Jenkins from nominating him are considered excellent tactics. But without better organization on the floor, Mr. McAdoo's chances would appear to be slim at this writing.

Carter Glass Starts Things

HOKE SMITH, one time governor of Georgia and now senator from that state, would like to be president but realizes that he lives too far south to seriously covet the honor.

Alida is chosen is the wet or dry question. If this is a Wilson convention, and it will probably be, it will be so in the early sessions, there will be at least a moist plank in the platform, for the White House has wet inclinations. It was pointed out by one of the delegates with gestures of significance today, that President Wilson vetoed the Volstead act and that the latter became a law over his veto.

Moreover, it should be remembered, Mr. Wilson never sent Hughes to state legislative bodies, urging them to adopt the eighteenth amendment, while he has taken a vital interest in the constitutional amendment to grant the franchise to women.

On the Wet Issue
Eastern democracy is wet and has enough votes to exercise a balance of power between the moist or less moist sections and the arid west. Western democrats admit they are amazed by the overwhelming wet sentiment being rallied either from the east or west. Several democratic leaders want to win so badly that they are considering the advisability of taking a tent out of the republican camp at Chicago and putting a plank that is both for and against something, satisfies most everybody, prevents a quorum and permits a candidate to interpret the plank as he pleases in the campaign. The league of nations plank in the republican national convention may find its parallel in a compromise plank on the liquor question at the democratic convention. What Johnson was to the republican efforts at harmony, Bryan will be to the democrats.

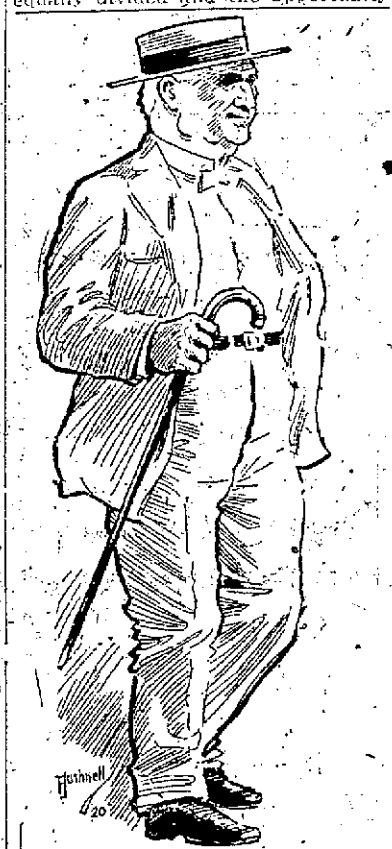

Bryan vs. Cummings
Mr. Bryan has considered making a fight on Homer Cummings, who is to be temporary chairman of the convention, because of the alleged wet leanings of the latter. The Wilson forces would welcome such a tilt, for Homer Cummings would win for a compromise may come in San Francisco as it did in Chicago.

Nothing in the famous Virginia platform which is to be the model on the league of nations refers to the prohibition question, but the big delegates from New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Illinois, and Massachusetts are inclined to favor a wet plank. The chances for its acceptance as democratic doctrine this year are improving.

HOOVER ADVOCATES MODIFIED TREATY

Speedy Ratification of Pact With Elimination of Article Ten Urged.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, June 25.—Speedy ratification of the treaty of Versailles after the elimination of article X of the league of nations covenant was urged by Herbert Hoover in a statement made public here today in the New York Evening Post, the publication of the republican party form.

Mr. Hoover took the stand that the limited scope of employment of military force to guarantee the integrity of foreign states was out of place in a league which he declared was "the product of the liberal ideals of the world." The league's power, he declared, would be more potent if the threat of military force were removed and the league relied wholly on its "moral and economic power."

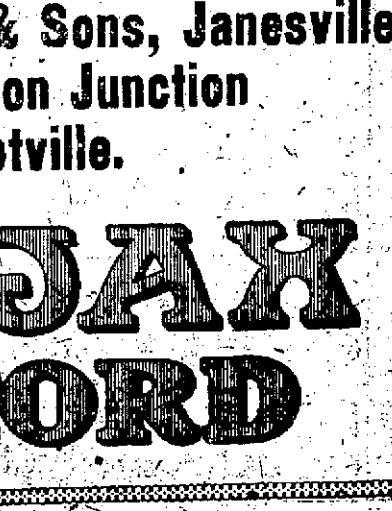

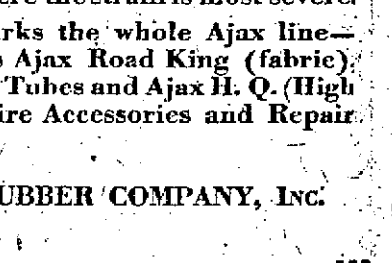

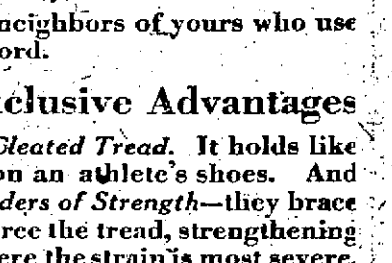

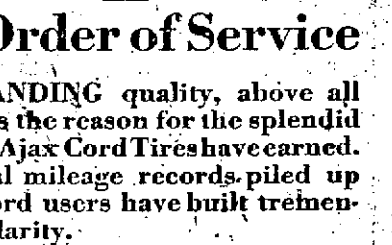

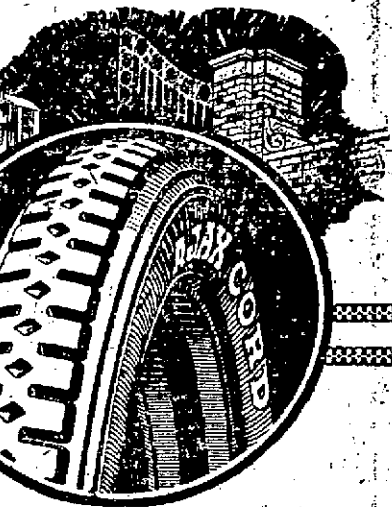

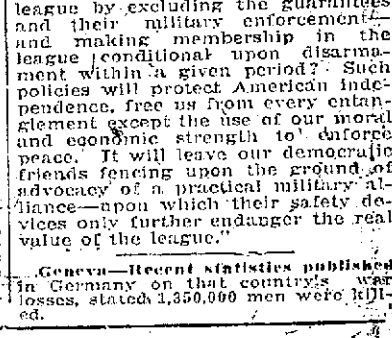

Sees Danger of War
The "basic need for such a 'military alliance' as he sees in the league covenant with article X is to 'control states which persist in armament which renders them capable of aggressive action.'

Mr. Hoover declared that sooner or later the United States must ratify the treaty of Versailles in some form and that talk of negotiating a new treaty of independence, he said, "is the charter of independence of Poland and the warrant of increased national territory of several great nations and they are now going to reopen discussion as to their titles, the guarantee of the disarmament of four great autocracies, and no European nation is going to risk their revived 'bank'."

The league of nations covenant is the essential part of the treaty, he said, and it gives the life to mandates, it today governs certain neutralized areas, it guarantees the score of treaties of self-determination, and its second function is its provisions for prevention of future war. The first phase can no more be rejected than the treaty itself. The second function relates to the future and is subject to amendment, it can be amended by the league organization itself.

"In the face of these conditions," he concluded, "cannot the republicans party adopt the definite constructive policy of ratification subject to the minor reservations and wider vision of excluding the guarantees and their military enforcement, and making membership in the league within a given period? Such policies will protect American independence, free us from every entanglement except the use of our moral and economic strength to enforce peace. It will leave our democratic friends fencing upon the ground of peace, and upon which their safety devices only further endanger the real value of the league."

Geneva—Recent statistics published in Germany on that country's peace, stated 1,500,000 men were killed.

FEHRENBACH FORMS NEW COMPROMISE GERMAN CABINET

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Copenhagen, June 25.—Konstantin Fehrenbach, German chancellor, has succeeded in forming a cabinet comprising representatives of the conservative, democratic and German people's parties, according to a Berlin dispatch to the National Tidende. Those attempting portfolios in the new government include:

Curt Heinze, minister of justice and vice-chancellor; Dr. Wirth, finance; Herr Koch, interior; Herr Gessler, defense; General Greener, transport; Herr Sehl, commerce; Herr Gieseler, postmaster general; Herr Von Braun, labor.

Heinze, Wirth, Koch, Gessler and Gieseler were members of the Fehrenbach cabinet formed on June 21, which resigned immediately after formation when the majority socialists refused to support it.

RAT EXTERMINATION

URGED IN FIGHT TO CHECK PLAGUE

Washington, June 25.—Calling attention to the danger of plague, the health department today urged rat extermination along the coast, to inaugurate rat extermination campaigns.

Bubonic plague is primarily a disease of rodents, especially rats, said General Cummings, "and the disease can be controlled effectively by measures directed against the rat. The extermination of rats also is to be desired because of the tremendous economic damage they cause."

According to estimates by the public health department there is at least one rat for every person in the United States. The annual upkeep per rodent was computed by the same authorities as $1.80 in Great Britain; $1.30 in Denmark and $1 in France. The depredation of the rats in the United States will very probably exceed the estimate for Great Britain.

One half a cent a day is considered conservative, but even this computation it costs the United States $180,000,000 a year to support its rat population. This does not include mice.

Bolshevik Propaganda Is Spread to North and South America.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, June 25.—Establishment of the Latin-American branch of the third international of Moscow at Mexico City to spread bolshevik propaganda in North and South America, is reported by Excelsior of Mexico City, copies of which have been received by state department officials.

According to Excelsior, the Mexican capital is the center of bolshevik activity on this continent and soviet propaganda in the United States is being directed from there.

The Mexican police, Excelsior says, have begun arresting active agents of the Moscow soviet government.

Nationalities represented in the organization said to have been built up includes Russians, Rumanians, Germans, Hindus and Americans, some of whom fled from the United States to escape the draft.

Excelsior says the leader is a Russian named Grueschberg, who with two others is now on his way to Moscow, to obtain a fund of $15,000,000 to finance the work of the bolshevik in the Americas.

HOPE TO COMPLETE K. C. HOME BY OCT. 1; DIRECTORS ELECTED

Carroll Council, Knights of Columbus, last night formally organized the Knights of Columbus Home association, the $50,000 incorporation recently sanctioned by the state. George Sennett and W. H. Dougherty were elected directors for terms of three years each, W. J. Kennedy and John P. Cullen for two years, and Mayor Thomas B. Walsh, A. J. Wilbur and J. J. Dulin for one year.

The board will hold an early meeting and organize. It is planned to completely remodel the Jeffris home at the corner of South Jackson and Pleasant streets which the council has purchased for its clubhouse. The second story will be made into a large lodge meeting hall. Plans and specifications for the renovation will be ready shortly and bids will be received.

Present plans are for the building being ready for occupancy by Oct. 1.

INTEREST CAN BE SAVED BY PAYING NOW FOR PAVING

Paving assessments are being sent out and so far the returns will be few who will not pay before the end of the year, most of them in 60 and 90 days. All who pay now will save the interest at 7 per cent for ten years. If payments are delayed the city will have to issue bonds and the interest charges will be added.

The city pays cash for the paving and if the building property does not pay promptly as the assessments are made the city will be compelled to issue bonds to cover cost.

Notifying the city clerk as to whether you wish to pay now or have payments extended over the ten year period with interest added.

SEALER HOME

BILLY WILKERS

The kids and Button got on board the boat as planned, and Day hid herself in the ladies' cabin under a table that had a long coat on it. While looking for her, got shut into the potato-bin, where he had to stay for two days, during which time he ate up nearly all of the potatoes; and the steamer was well on her way to Constantinople before he was found. In the meantime, Day and Button had searched everywhere for him and had come to the conclusion that he must have jumped overboard like Bossey, only with better success. Day, who was a great favorite of the cook, followed her into the kitchen for some cakes and there found Billy sitting on a stool, eating with a relish. Her joy was great, and she ran up to him and began licking his face and making a great fuss over him. "You two act as if you had never seen each other before. What is probably the way you came to be on board? One of you must have come on and the other followed. You in some way you got someone's pair. But what in the world are we going to do with two goats and a black cat? We did not dare turn the cat out, as they say it is good luck to have a black cat come to you, but if you turn it off bad luck will follow. We will have a picnic on the boat, and stop at a place, for we already have a parrot and a mockingbird, and dear knows how many strange and funny things. You see they were no longer little kids, but good sized chaps, having grown a lot since they started on their travels, and being perfectly able to pull a little basket-phonon or cart of any description.

On board the steamer was an attaché of the Sultan's court and seeing the kids, he conceived the idea

BAD CHECK PAIR GETS $400 HERE FOR FORGERIES

A clever young couple with their boy spent a rather profitable and enjoyable day in Janesville, Saturday, when they were arrested for passing bad checks. They are not expected back for some time, not because they don't like the city but merely because they left a wake of bad checks aggregating close to $400. Chief Morley has furnished police in surrounding cities with their descriptions.

Three merchants and one bank were victims, because of their generosity in cashing the checks, believing the people newcomers to Janesville. Two checks totalling close to $150 were cashed at the Merchants & Savings bank, the others ranging from $75 to $50 each were cashed by J. L. Ford & Son, Sampica Tailors and T. P. Burns Co.

The two worked separately, giving false addresses on Western avenue as their home. Their method was to make a small purchase and then offer a big check made out in the several cases to Arnold Moore, Harold Moran, James Cross, etc. on the Merchants Savings bank of Madison.

A dozen fictitious names were used. In one case when questioned, the woman declared to have said, "Why, Mr. — across the street, cashed one for me last week and to Arnold Moore, call right." This seemed to relieve the apprehensive merchant of doubt.

NOVEL PROGRAM FOR FARM CELEBRATION

WILL BUILD $2,000 HOME IN 1ST WARD

Permit for erection of a $2,000 frame stucco dwelling, five rooms, 22x31, one story, at 1406 North Washington street has been issued by the city building department to Katherine Blankenburg.

Seven other permits have been granted, as follows: Thomas Cantwell, building porch, 718 Railroad; R. Sathre, addition, 703 St. Mary's avenue; Paul A. Buggs, addition, 622 Locust; Charles B. Arthur, private garage and installing heating plant, 158 Cherry; H. K. Beall, private garage and remodeling, 1103 Milwaukee avenue.

For the purpose of studying field demonstrations, especially the value of time as a fertilizer and the value of alfalfa raised in Green county, a county agents' meeting will be held at Monroeville afternoon and tomorrow. Agents from southern Wisconsin will be in attendance, including R. T. Glasco, Janesville.

LaCrosse—When Dr. John G. Barnsdale, Superior, was sentenced to Leavenworth upon conviction on a charge of violating the narcotic law, he failed to pay the fine of $5,000 which accompanied his sentence. Now United States District Attorney A. C. Wolfe has levied on property in Superior found to be assessed to Dr. Barnsdale and action will be taken at Superior this week to satisfy the judgment for the United States Court.

BARN DANCE, Monday, June 28th at Reilly Bros., Leyden. Hatch's Orchestra.

Roger G. Cunningham, city attorney, returned last night from a motor trip to New York city. While in Buffalo visiting the Curtiss brothers aviation field he met Leo Chase, former Janesville youth, and enjoyed a half-hour airplane ride with him. Mr. Cunningham says they hit an altitude of 3,000 feet and he enjoyed it until Chase began with loops, tail-spins, and vrees. He was glad to strike terra firma again.

One Dog Has Two Owners, Two Names

A dog with two names—"Buster" and "Cow-ow"—and claiming two masters secured one of the new state licenses today from City Clerk E. J. Sartell—that is, his owners bought one for him.

The boy masters, G. Huggins, 402 North Bluff and G. Ellis, 203 North Bluff, were at the clerk's office with the canine early this morning. They paid the $3 fee, $1.50 license. When it came to paying the 15-cent fee for the tag consideration discussion ensued. It finally ended with the Ellis boy paying with the 15 cents with the stipulation that he is to have the dog any time he wants it in the daytime, the other youngster to have it nights.

ALL NOTICES OUT City Clerk E. J. Sartell today sent out the last of the street paving notices to property owners.

"The New York lawyer? No, he got frightened and left. He skipped out the next day after you fellows got away. Bill wanted him to go along with him, but he said he was too sick. Then he called him East, but he never. I reckon he must've got cold feet, about something—anyhow he's gone."

"Sure, she took the same train," eager now to divulge all he knew. "But that ain't her real name—it's a kind of long name, an' begins with C. I saw it in a letter she left up stairs, but I couldn't make it all out. She's married, Westcott and Miss Donovan met. There was a bit of strange news—the C. R. woman, a married woman, with a long name, thought occurred to them both, yet it was evidently a guess to question. The girl looked tired, completely worn out, and the affair could rest until morning."

"Take Miss Donovan, to a room," Westcott said shortly, and Bill run upstairs and have another look at Cavendish."

"At who?"

"Cavendish, the wounded man we just carried in."

"That, that's blamed funny. Say, I don't remember ever hearin' that name before in all my life till just now. Come for think of it, I believe that was the name in that La Rue letter. I got it yere in the desk; it's torn some, an' don't mean nothin' to me; sounds kinder nutty. He threw open a drawer, rummaging in it, but without pausing in speech. Then a fellow flew in yere this mornin', told the kilted nutty that you, Jim, had dangled if I don't believe his name was Cavendish. The register was so full he didn't write it down, but that was the name all right. And now you tote in another nut. What is this, anyhow—a family reunion?"

"You say a man by that name was here—askin' for me?"

"I reckon he's asleep up stairs, for he never showed up at supper."

"In what room, Pete?"

"That, that's a swift word of excuse to Stella, dashed into the hall and disappeared. I went to the stairs, took three steps at a time. A moment later those below heard him pounding at a door; then his voice sounded."

"This is Jim Westcott, open up."

"Timmons stood gazing blankly at the empty staircase, mopping his forehead with a handkerchief. Then with a bound he recovered his horn-rimmed spectacles, and polished them as though

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Ochine—Double Strength

This preparation for the removal of freckles is usually so successful in beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Apply to your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Ochine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing outright for the double strength Ochine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful glossy hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary kerosene and use it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and, therefore, four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and swelling of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and, but ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Mick shook his head slowly and said: "Save time, reverendness; just wait until I'm fit again and pray for Pat."

"Nothing," replied the stranger, quietly. "I only came in to connect up the telephone."

WHEN A MAN'S MARRIED

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

The Clan of North America

V. The Camp Directors

Francis Roll-Wheeler.

There had not been any close contacts with regard to the election of these governors, but the election of a Camp Director was a different matter. The Council nominated three fellows, John, a clerk, a hard-headed son of a retired farmer;

Pierre, a brilliant, but somewhat eccentric chap, of French and Scotch ancestry; and Max

Schultz, the best writer on any of the school papers.

Active personal campaigns were waged, and on election evening in the largest high school auditorium in Juvenon, each of the three candidates addressed the Camp members. John spoke was the most practical, Pierre's the most inspiring, but Max burst out with a volume of oratory that fairly swept the crowd so they put the election to a simple, seventy votes did not take long to cast, and only a few minutes to count.

The result was a surprise. In spite of Max's brilliant oratory, he had gained only 11 votes. John's practical suggestions had won him 22 sympathetic, but the inspiring leadership of Pierre found its answer in 37 ballots. Pierre's speech of repentance and appreciation brought down

the house and he said:

"Camp members, I'm not going to deny that I'm proud I'm elected. I wanted to be, and I honestly believe that we can make the Independent Camp the best thing of its kind that has ever been. It's like a clan, where every one does his or her best for the good of the whole. And it's like this American continent, where every one gets a chance to make good. We can make our camp the beginning of a great new world.

Thus, amid a roar of cheers, the Clan of North America was born.

I would bloat up badly with gas. The gas pressed against my heart until

I felt as if I was going to choke.

"I had sharp shooting pains around my stomach. In fact, I had these pains practically all the time.

"I also had great difficulty in breathing, and at times would just have to fight for breath. I could get but little sleep, lots of nights not being able to sleep a wink, and would always get up in the morning with a headache and a heavy weight on my back. I was in a state of mind that I could not enjoy anything. I was a nervous man, and I was a failure in my work. I was a failure in my work.

"This was my condition when I started taking Tanlac, but I had only a small amount when I began to get better. I felt like I was taking it until now I have a splendid appetite and can eat any thing I want and everything agrees

300 FARMERS TO JOIN SPECIAL TOUR

Rock and Neighboring Counties Will Join June 30 in Visit to Madison.

Three hundred farmers including their families will join the Rock County Special tour to the experimental farms at Madison June 30 according to estimates made by R. T. Glasco, county agent.

Two miles of autos, that is the goal that Jefferson county farmers have set for their drive to the State Experimental Farms at Madison June 30. P. M. Coyner, county agent, is arranging local plans.

Many Green county farmers and their families are expected to swell the crowds which visit the State Experimental Farms June 30.

Waukesha county farmers living in the Green county state capital to spend the day at the celebrated State Experimental Farms June 30. J. E. Stallard, county agent, will lead the active, Dane county farmers, several hundred of them, are going to gather at the State Experimental Farm June 30 and visit the various exhibits of other farmers who are driving in from other southern Wisconsin counties to spend the day.

Madison, June 25.—Seed Stock for Wisconsin's famous Golden Glow corn was perfected at the Wisconsin Experiment Station. Silver King corn and the famous Odebreucker and Manshull barleys were all developed and improved at the Wisconsin Experiment Station.

While these crops have now established a world wide reputation, one person in a thousand in Wisconsin's population has ever visited the great breeding and experimental plots which are solving the present and future problems of the farmer.

On Station Day, June 30, the gates of the experiment station will be thrown open for a demonstration which will embrace, a trip around the farms, visiting crops, experiments, heads, a remodeled farm house, and the two newest labor-saving devices for the farmer, a silage tamper and a hay distributor.

Plots Prepared for Demonstration. Right now on the Hill Farm, fertilizer experiments show a difference of over six inches in height between the various plots. The influence in fertilizer is also making a difference in color.

On the clover plots results are already showing. Results on clover planted and matured this spring without a catch crop and clover which was planted last year are the same conditions according to Dr. L. S. Rowe.

Later, the university farms are under a condition of fair fertility but the results are nevertheless astonishing.

Sudan grass, alfalfa, clover and soy beans are some of the emergency crops which are being tried out at the farm. The clover crops which are planted late to fill in the failure of another crop.

New Machinery Display. The newest machine in the labor saving line for the farm is the hay distributor which does away with the hard sweaty work in the hay mow and which is becoming almost as necessary as a hay fork or set of stings. A silage tamper which works mechanically and a soy bean and fertilizer planter will be on display for Station Day.

Women Meet With Mrs. Jones. In the forenoon the women will visit the same places visited by the men but in the afternoon after listening to the poultry cutting demonstration they will inspect the remodeled farm house on Hill Farm. A model kitchen is being set up with cabinets, iceboxes, and electrical apparatus for the home—everything which can save steps for the housewife.

Boys and Girls. While the grown-ups are visiting other parts of the farm the boys and girls will play games under the leadership of Mr. T. L. Bewick and other state club leaders. Poultry cutting practice or trips to the refreshment stand will keep them busy and happy.

Program Ended Early. Present plans carried out will see the entire day spent and all the various parts visited about the station between eleven o'clock in the morning and five at night.

Appleton.—The thirtieth anniversary of his installation as pastor of St. John's Lutheran church here was celebrated Sunday by the Rev. Theodore March. Six ministers attended the service, which was arranged by members of the congregation as a surprise to him. He received a purse containing $100 in gold.

Rhineland.—Due largely to the activities of the Oneida Counties Fish and Game Protection association, more fish have been planted in the lakes and streams of Oneida county this season than any previous year. Since early spring 150 cans of fry have been received here from state hatcheries.

LAD DRINKS POISON FOUND ON FARM, LIVES

Orfordville, June 25.—While Mr. and Mrs. John Egan were on a tour of inspection at a farm on Tuesday afternoon, south of Broadhead, accompanied by their two small children, one of the little ones discovered a small bottle and in child like fashion proceeded to examine it by tasting it. It was found to contain a small amount of strychnine and the children, the boy especially, soon began to show signs of poisoning from the drug. The children were hurried to Broadhead for medical aid but not until the boy was having spasms. Prompt and radical methods resorted to were all that saved the life of the child.

The little girl had tasted of the contents, but the taste did not appeal to her fancy and the boy, a lad of two years, thinking that it contained something good, placed the bottle in his mouth with the above result.

What Do You Think?

Two letters received by the Gazette bear the same burden of criticism of conditions in the city—cost of rooms and high rents. One of the writers is a little temperate in language but he is arriving at the same conclusion.

What do you think Jansville should do to take care of the many hundreds of girls who come here for employment? The Gazette has many hundreds of girls who come here for employment? The Gazette should do to make life more pleasant for them. There is no place for them now except the few public dances and occasionally a church affair.

What do you think?

Editor Gazette:

The writer is a newcomer, having resided here about three months; he is a working man, having a family, and is therefore keenly interested in living conditions. He is interested in the progress of the individual, the community, the nation, and the world.

Although a young man, and formerly resident of Ohio, I have resided much upon this terrestrial sphere. I have hobnobbed with the rich and the poor, the high and the low, and have seen all sorts of living conditions.

But truly, nowhere have I met with such abominable conditions as those which prevail here. The poverty-stricken peasant of the Siberian steppes, the fisherman of the Mediterranean, the New York—these are all more fortunate than we Wisconsin new comers; for poorer, still they have no room to live in.

Understand me, Mr. Editor and fellow readers—I do not condemn nor content this city. It is a fine place, beautiful and sure to thrive. With admiration for its many good qualities, and appreciation of its progress, I offer this suggestion to you: "What Jansville should do now to grow in population and substance."

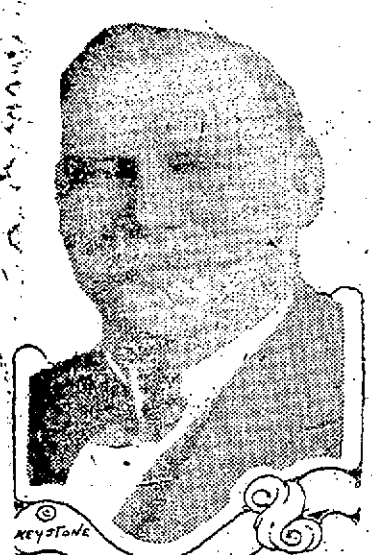

There is an extensive class of profiteers hereabouts. I refer to those who rent rooms—particularly house-keeping rooms—at outrageously high prices. Many "respectable families" indulge in this vicious practice. Shylock nothing on 'em!

Even though they be pre-eminently "respectable," and prominent in religious circles, I say this: they are "the lowest of the low," the worst sinners this side of hell, and Jansville's only drawback.

Those are housekeepers in this city who are making their homes entirely by rentals from one small suite of rooms? This is wrong; for a man should earn his own home, and who can say that a landlord earns his—if he pays for it, his taxes, interest, and insurance, out of rent from one thirty-room suite?

Morally, rental extortion depraves the financial gain. Socially, it elevates the landlord; and it puts the

IRKUTSK IS RULED BY SOVIET, FOOD CONDITIONS SERIOUS

Irkutsk, Central Siberia.—Soviet rule has been thoroughly established in Irkutsk. All institutions have been nationalized, most of the stores have been closed and a permit is necessary even to purchase a newspaper. Food conditions are most serious and the population is given small rations of black bread costing 250 rubles per pound.

10,000 Chinese Leave

Few foreigners, and no foreign consular officials remain in Irkutsk. It is estimated that ten thousand Chinese left Irkutsk during May. Officials declare the food crisis will continue until harvest time.

The Associated Press correspondent in reaching Irkutsk made a two thousand mile tour which took six weeks, from Vladivostok through China and Mongolia and across the 100 mile stretch of the Gobi desert. He was the first American to enter the Soviet boundaries from the east since the collapse of the Kolchak regime.

Travel in Freight Cars

There is direct rail and wire communication from here to Moscow and it is claimed trains make the trip in 14 days. All persons must travel in third class, that is, in freight cars. High government officials are exempt from this rule.

Their case was adjourned for a week. Tom Cornelius, former owner of the place which the policemen now run, applied for a job on the police force and was appointed patrolman.

CITIZENS BEHIND GAZETTE IN EFFORT FOR BETTER TRAINS

right in its place, but I'll be darned if it has a place on every passenger train that goes from here to Milwaukee. Something ought to be done. I think that the Gazette can be of great help by circulating sentiment and then working in accord with the Chambers of Commerce of Janesville and the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce.

Charles Chase of the Janesville Wholesale Grocery Co., is also of the opinion that the service is very inadequate. He pointed out how the service is a ban and bugbear of the traveling man's life.

N. P. Beckes, architect, is disgusted with the present service. "If you want to know what I think about it, it's dam rotten. I have to go to Milwaukee every week and I can't get out of the city without a headache. I asked the conductor what the delay was and he replied, 'Oh, we're just waiting for that fellow to get his milk down.' I looked out the window and there about a quarter of a mile up the road a milk can carrier was poking around. I knew it was late the train would wait."

Thomas Nolan, lawyer, said something service is not being done. The Chamber of Commerce of both Janesville and Milwaukee could, perhaps, improve the situation but the action must be concerted.

Louis A. Richards, also believes that there should be more and better trains but like Mr. Bingham, declares that efforts to improve the service must be united or they will be in vain.

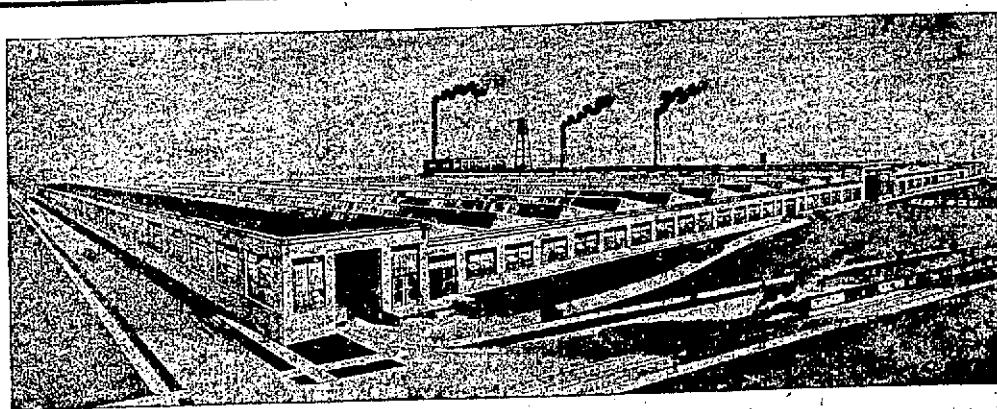

Dr. S. F. Richards when asked what he thought of the service, laughed and said, "It isn't service. This is only chapter 1. It will be continued."

New James Plant Now Being Built at Fort Atkinson

Safety Plus Seven Per Cent Right at Home

Invest your money at home in an essential and a successful industry.

The James Manufacturing Company of Fort Atkinson offers local and conservative investors an opportunity to purchase its PREFERRED SHARES, in order to take care of its rapidly growing business.

The sales of the company have increased from about $35,000 in 1908 to $4,000,000 annually. For more than two years it has been impossible to manufacture enough equipment to take care of the demand.

The labor problem on the farm is so serious that the farmer will be compelled to more and more adopt the labor saving equipment provided by the James company; which also saves feed; increases the milk yield; improves cow health; makes it easier to maintain sanitary conditions, through the manufacture of dairy, beef, hog and horse barn equipment.

The James Manufacturing Company contributes to the success of the most basic of all industries, AGRICULTURE. The market is the best in the world, the AMERICAN FARMER. Through the enlarged production of barn equipment the new factory WILL HELP SOLVE THE FARM LABOR PROBLEM.

This new factory is 400 by 600 feet—the largest building to go up under one roof at one time in Wisconsin, and covers five and one-half acres. Drive over to the Fort and see the wonderful growth of the James Company for yourself.

The slogan of the banks today is: "Every dollar invested now will be worth two dollars in five years."

Every dollar saved now will be worth two in five years, provided it is INTELLIGENTLY INVESTED.

INTELLIGENTLY INVESTED means invested where it is secured by more than ample assets, where it will earn as large a dividend as safety will permit, and where at the same time it will help produce goods essential to the success of agriculture.

The James Manufacturing Company offers the investors of Janesville and vicinity just this opportunity. It has a record of regular payment of dividends during all of its history.

Seven Per Cent Preferred Shares

GRAIN

Chicago, June 25.—Rather general commission house selling, weighed down prices in the corn market. Bearish sentiment was based largely on the likelihood of continued liberal receipts together with absence of any urgent shipping demand here. Shorts held most of the buying. Initial quotations which varied from unchanged to 1/2 lower with July 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, and September 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, were followed by moderate rallies and then by a decided setback all around. Outlets were weak with corn. After opening unchanged to 1/2 cent lower including Sept. 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, the market then advanced somewhat but soon sagged lower than before. Shorts held most of the buying. MANY COMPLAINTS MADE ON VAULTS

Council May Take Definite Steps Toward Eliminating Outhouses.

During the first 25 days of this month 26 open privy vaults have been the object of neighborhood complaint to Dr. F. B. Welch, city health officer. By far the greater majority of complaints registered were when the city was subjected to the torrid wave of a week or more. During the cool, rainy May there were a total of 16 complaints.

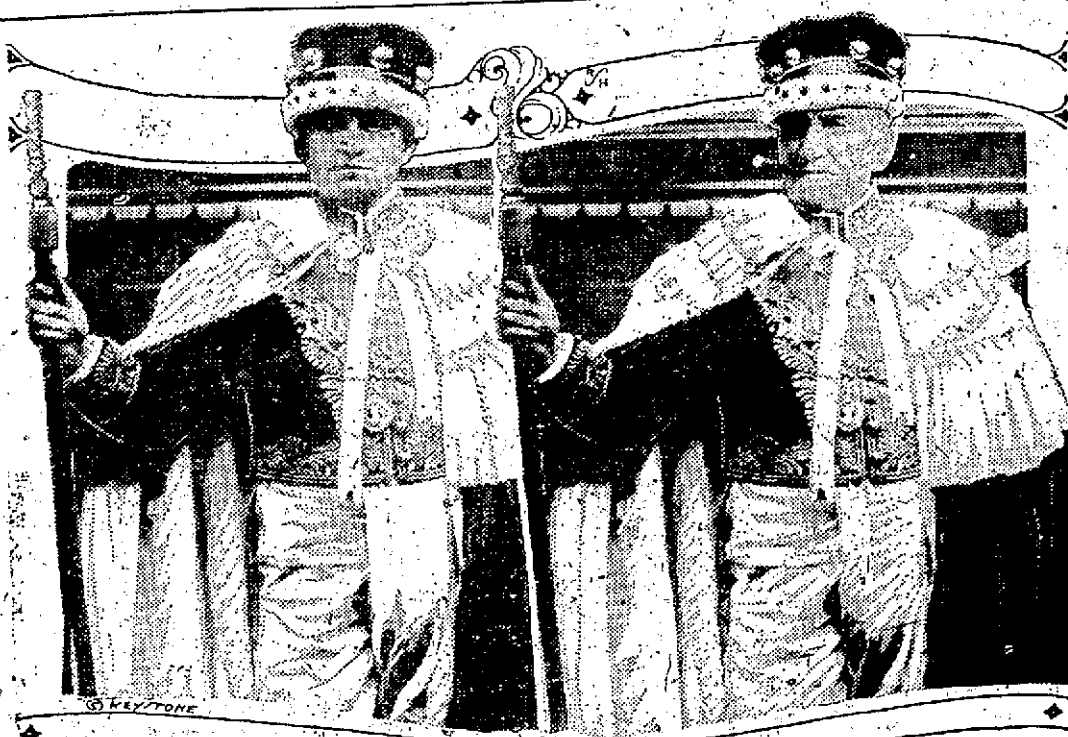

"The figures speak for themselves," declared the health officer today. "The vaulting period is here, and the outhouse is becoming a nuisance. It not only sends forth its evil smell, but it is the breeding place for flies and vermin. Every single person living in the city of Janesville should have that amount of pride to abate the nuisance and to do all in his power to avert spreading of sickness by the flies, rodents and vermin which thrive in these places.

"Milk of lime should be used freely, at least once a week, slaked to four times its volume with water. The complaints are coming now from the more populated districts, in most every case districts where it is possible to eliminate the privy vault as water and sanitary sewers are available. From the neighborhoods where the homes are more widely separated there are few complaints, except perhaps an occasional one regarding a manure pile or the presence of decaying garbage. This condition seems natural when you consider it thoroughly. More people are taking in roomers today than ever before. All do not have modern sanitary conveniences and with that condition prevailing, we have double and triple the number using the toilets. It does not take these long to fill. With the coming of warm weather they smell and are an evil.

Dublin Has Ordinance. "Just what provisions will be contained in the ordinance governing this subject which will be introduced to the council Monday night by Ald. J. J. Duffin, I do not know, but I venture the opinion that had his ordinance of similar nature gone through a year ago we would not have much of the trouble we are meeting now.

"It is quite evident that during the past three weeks, Janesville vaults have received practically no attention. At least during this period there have been no requests upon me

MY EYE! IS THIS UNCLE JOE WEARING ROBES OF STATE?

Earl Curzon of Kedleston in his official robes, and picture showing how "Uncle Joe" Cannon would look in the same outfit.

If American statesmen decked themselves out in gorgeous robes of state such as are worn on important occasions by leaders in the British parliament, would they look dignified and demotic, or only amusing? The above layout affords a clue. At the left, Earl Curzon, the government leader in the house of lords, is shown in his official robes. At the right are seen the same robes, but the earl's face has been taken out and that of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, cigar and all, has been substituted.

to give privy vault removal permits. "Therefore, as a means of keeping down the fly and of eliminating illness I would request every owner of an outside vault to pay special attention to the use of milk of lime at least once weekly."

Marquette. A large party of members of the Robert McCoy Commandery's Knights Templar of Madison, who came in motor cars, were entertained by the Marquette Commandery. A dinner at Pine beach was one of the functions, and the Madison Knights conferred degrees at the local temple. They also visited Lake Monongah. The Marquette Knights expect to soon visit Madison.
